GRANTS & CONTRACTS:

- 2015-2020 (Co-Investigator) SDSU/UCSD Cancer Center Comprehensive Partnership. (DHHS National Institutes of Health, U54;$6,362,193)
The goal of the SDSU/UCSD Cancer Center Comprehensive Partnership is to reduce the burden of cancer among Hispanic/Latino communities in our catchment areas of San Diego and Imperial counties. We accomplish this by building research and research education capacity and by continuing to improve outreach and education to underserved communities in our areas, with a special emphasis on Hispanic/Latinos.
- 2015-2019 (Co-Investigator) Neighborhood Environments and Cardiometabolic Disorders in Hispanic/Latinos (CASAS). (NIH/NIDDK, R01; $2,256,487)
The major goal of this study is to test an innovative, comprehensive, socio-ecological model of neighborhood influences in metabolic health in U.S. Hispanics/Latinos.
- 2015-2019 (Co-Investigator) SOL Neurocognitive Ancillary Study (SOL INCA) (NIH/NIA, R01;$682,118)
The major goal of this project is to examine the prevalence and progression of cognitive impairment in participants (45 years and older) from the HCHS/SOL, and to examine associations among cognitive function, genetic predispositions, and cardiovascular disease risk factors.
- 2014-2019 (Principal Investigator) Latinos Understanding the Need for Adherence in Diabetes (LUNA-D). (DHHS National Institute of Nursing Research, R01; $2,233,183)
The major goal of this project is to test the effectiveness of a culturally appropriate, integrated behavioral and physical health, chronic care disease management intervention for low income Hispanics/Latinos with diabetes accessing care within San Ysidro Health Center, Inc., a San Diego County federally qualified health center.
- 2013-2019 (Principal Investigator) Hispanic community Health Study-Study of Latinos (HCHS/SOL) San Diego Field Center. (NIH/NHLBI, HHSN268201300005I; $16,716,579)
The major goals in this project are to identify putative causes for diseases and conditions highly prevalent in Hispanics (e.g. diabetes, left ventricular hypertrophy, and gestational diabetes mellitus); describe the transformation of health-related risk and protective factors related to migration, acculturation, and length of time living in the U.S. and assess the impact of changes in socioeconomic factors, cultural values, risk behaviors, and medical care access on health in Hispanics.
- 2013-2015 (Co-Investigator) Evaluating the Effectiveness of Responsible Conduct in Research Education for Community Health Workers (DHHS/ORI /UCSD) (Nebeker)
The major goals of this project are to assess the effectiveness of these two resources in developing competency to practice responsible research. The study aims are: 1- develop and test an instrument to measure research competencies in paraprofessional research staff and, 2- assess the extent to which completion of the training programs influence research competency test scores.
- 2013-2015 (Principal Investigator) IDASH Partnership for Epidemiological Research Among Hispanic/Latinos (UCSD, U54; $194,504 (Sub Only)
The major goal of this project is to understand the research literacy among HCHS/SOL participants who did and did not consent to provide biospecimens during the baseline consenting process.

- 2013-2014 (Co-Investigator) Socialcultural Factors and Control and Cardiometabolic Risk in Mexican-American Women.(NIH/NHLBI, R56; $392,637)
The major goals of this project are to identify putative causes for diseases and conditions highly prevalent in Latinos (e.g. diabetes, left ventricular hypertrophy, and gestational diabetes mellitus), describe the transformation of health related risk and protective factors related to migration, acculturation, and length of time living in the U.S., and assess the impact of changes in socioeconomic factors, cultural values, risk behaviors, and medical care access on health in Latinos.
- 2011-2016 (Co-Investigator) Mentoring Diverse Students in Health Disparities Research (NIH/NIMHD, R25; $1,724,175)
A 5-year IBACH Training and Mentoring Program will enroll a total of 40 undergraduate and graduate students underrepresented in research to pursue higher level academic or career opportunities that contribute to reducing health disparities.
- 2011-2015 (Principal Investigator-Subcontract) Epidemiologic Determinant of Cardiac Structure and Function Among Hispanics. (R01;$42,685.00)
The major goal of this project is to help researchers understand how cardiovascular risk factors and social stress relates to cardiac structure and function among Hispanics
- 2011-2014 (Co-Investigator) Hispanic Community Children’s Health Study SOL YOUTH (NIH, R01; $1,982,319)
The major goal of this project is to asses the health of Latino youth whose parents/caregivers are involved in the Hispanic Community Health Study.
- 2010-2015 (Co-Principal Investigator) Clinical Behavioral Approach to Overweight Latino Youth (NIH/NIDDK, R01; $1,833,199).
This randomized controlled trial will test the efficacy of a cultural and linguistically appropriate, evidence-based intervention to lower Body Mass Index (BMI) or slow weight gain among overweight 6-9 year-old Mexican-American children randomly sampled from community health center providing services to low and medium income families in a US-Mexico border community
- 2010-2014 (Co-Investigator) Investing in America’s Future: Mentoring Researchers in Latino Health Disparities (NIH/NHLBI, R25; $1,366,783)
This program involves a series of trainings and mentoring activities for new Latino tenure-track researchers interested in Latino health and health disparities research as related to cardiovascular disease (CVD) and other conditions associated with CVD risk factors.
- 2009-2014 (Co- Investigator) San Diego Prevention Research Center: Obesity Prevention and Control in the Latino Community (CDC, U48; $8,000,000).
The mission of the SDPRC is to conduct research and education to promote healthy lifestyles and environments to improve the health of Latino populations in San Diego.
- 2009-2011 (Co-Investigator) Obesity Prevention and Control in the Latino Community – Latin American Chronic Disease Prevention Network (CDC, U48; $1,190,485).
This study is an extension of the San Diego Prevention Research Center (SDPRC; John Elder, PI). Investigators from the SDPRC will collaborate with the Mexican Ministry of Health's National Institute of Public Health (Instituto Nacional de Salud Publica (INSP)), the largest single chronic disease research entity in Mexico, to conduct research and develop practice-based networks focused in the prevention of chronic disease, and particularly obesity, with Mexican and United States -based Latino-focused counterparts. These applications will include local, regional, and international efforts on both sides of the US-Mexico border, and beyond.

- 2007-2014 (Principal Investigator) San Diego Partnership to Reduce Diabetes and CVD in (NIH/NCMHD, P20; $6,245,220)
San Diego Partnership to Reduce CVD and Diabetes in Latinos is a tri-lateral collaboration designed to create a Center of Excellence for Latino Research. The partnership includes The Institute for Behavioral and Community Health Studies (IBACH) at SDSU, The Preventive Cardiology Division of UCSD and the Center for Latino Research and Health promotion at SYHC. Major goals for the effort include a randomized intervention for chronic disease and career development program for Latino researchers.
- 2008-2013 (Co-Investigator) Comprehensive SDSU/UCSD Cancer Center Partnership
(National Cancer Institute U54 CA132384, $7,911,523)
The overall goals of the Comprehensive SDSU-UCSD Cancer Partnership build on the progress to date and are to enhance cancer research and research training at SDSU; increase the effectiveness of the UCSD Cancer Center (UCSD-CC) in research, research training and career development related to minorities; and to continue the development of effective research, education, and outreach programs that will have an impact on the elimination of cancer disparities.
- 2006-2013 (Principal Investigator) San Diego Hispanic Community Health Study/Study of Latinos (HCHS/SOL) (Contract Number HHSN268200625237C; $11,948,321)
The San Diego Hispanic Community Health Study is a landmark multi-center epidemiological study that seeks to ascertain the prevalence of and risk factors for CVD and a number of health conditions in the Latino population in San Diego's South Bay as well as 3 other US cities.
- 2005-2010 (Principal Investigator) Redes En Acción II:
(NCI, Subcontract from Baylor University; $806,250)
- 2004-2007 (Principal Investigator) Colorectal Cancer Screening in Primary Care Practice
Pregunte sobre Poli (NIH;1-21-CA-11236-01; $349,784)
Randomized trial designed to address the social, cultural and system barriers to colorectal cancer screening among Latinos. The study design is theory driven and will isolate the critical knowledge and behavioral skills necessary to negotiate the encounter with the clinician and the health care system for this growing segment of the US population.
- 2003-2008 (Co-Investigator) Short-term Courses in Research Ethics.
(NIH; PAR-01-143; $760,242)
Culturally Tailored Ethics for the Latino Community: Project TRES. The primary goals of this project are to develop, conduct, disseminate, and evaluate a culturally tailored, content-appropriate, Spanish-translated research ethics curriculum that targets Community Health Advisors delivering research to Latino communities.
- 2002-2007 (Principal Investigator) Excellence in Partnerships for Community Outreach, Research on Disparities in Health and Training. (EXPORT) (National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities; $737,394)
The objective of Project EXPORT is the promotion of minority health and reduction of health disparities.
- 2002-2003 (Principal Investigator) Smoking Cessation Among Latinos Using Pharmacotherapy.
(National Cancer Institute;1-U01-CA86117-01; $50,000).

- 2000 – 2005 (Principal Investigator) Redes en Acción: Cancer Awareness, Training, and Research (Baylor School of Medicine, $97,663)
The National Latino Cancer Research Network is a National Cancer Institute-funded initiative to combat cancer among Latinos. A multi-faceted approach to cancer prevention and control, Redes En Acción II is building a nationwide network of community-based organizations, research institutions, government health agencies and the public.
- 2000 -2003 (Principapl Investigator) En Acción: Cancer Training, Research and Awareness (NIH/NCI,$254,416) The National Cancer Institute (NCI), through its Special Populations Branch, is supporting networking and capacity-building activities designed to increase Hispanic participation and leadership in cancer research. Redes En Acción established a national network of cancer research centers, community-based organizations, and federal partners to facilitate opportunities for junior Hispanic scientists to participate in training and research projects on cancer control.
- 2000-2005 (Principal Investigator) Redes En Acción: Special Populations Networks (National Cancer Institute/Sub-award from UTHSA) (#1-U01-CA86117-01; $121,600)
Special Populations Networks: A multi-center network of cancer researchers, government agencies, and community-based organizations
- 1999-2002 (Co-Investigator) Telephone Counseling for Pregnant Smokers (UC/Tobacco-Related Disease Related Program; $829,231)
This project developed the content, protocol and materials for quit-line for pregnant women in San Diego.
- 1999-2002 (Co-Investigator) Ascertainment of Environmental Exposure during Pregnancy (UC/Tobacco-Related Disease Related Program; $1,719,174)
The health of pregnant women and their newborn offspring is damaged be tobacco smoke, little is known about who in California is exposed to tobacco smoke during pregnancy, for how long and how much. The objectives of this research project are to put together a source of information to answer these and other questions about smoking.
- 1998-2001 (Principal Investigator) Smoking Cessation Among Latinos Using Community Health Advisors: Project SOL. (UC/Tobacco-Related Disease Related Program; $992,122)
- 200-2005 (Co-investigator) University of California, Hispanic Centers of Excellence Program. (HRSA; $1,000,000).
The Hispanic Center of Excellence provides training to young physicians and medical students to gain the knowledge and skills considered necessary to deliver culturally appropriate health services.
- 1999-2000 (Principal Investigator) Promoting Breast Cancer Screening Among Indigent Women: Minority Supplement. Marcela Castano. (National Cancer Institute; $18,487)
- 1997-1998 (Principal Investigator, Subcontract) Increasing Annual Recall in State Early Detection Breast Cancer Programs. (UC Breast Cancer Research Program, Subcontract Community Health Group). (Total Costs $74,000, Subcontract $14,262)
This project seeks to increase compliance with annual recall for breast cancer screening (mammography and clinical breast examination) among low income, uninsured women ages 50 and above, participating in the Breast Cancer Early Detection Program (BCEDP) and the Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program (BCCCP).

- 1997-1998 (Principal Investigator) NHLIC for Cancer Control: Grace Padilla Minority Supplement. (National Cancer Institute; $14,726)
- 1997-2000 (Principal Investigator) Compañeras En Acción: Promoting Cancer among Indigent Women. (National Cancer Institute; $709,692)
- 1995-1998 (Co-investigator) Salud Divino Tesoro: Diabetes and Cardiovascular Prevention among Community Health Center, Medi-cal Managed Care Patients. (Wellness Foundation of California; $700,000)
- 1994-1997 (Principal Investigator) Compañeras En Acción: Promoting Breast Cancer Screening Among Hispanic Women. (National Cancer Institute; $416,197)
This project promoted breast cancer screening among Latina women aged 50 years and older. The project incorporated three complementary and interacting levels of education: broadcast media (television and radio spots), narrowcast (project event calendars and newsletters disseminated by community networkers) and group educational sessions conducted by trained peer health workers. Intervention activities were conducted in the southern portion of San Diego County.
- 1993-2002 (Co-Investigator) Women's Health Initiative: Vanguard Clinical Center. (Office of Research on Woman's Health; $18,341,210)
A 40-center clinical trial evaluating preventive approaches to cancer, cardiovascular disease, and osteoporotic fractures in postmenopausal women.
- 1994-1995 (PI-Subcontract) Recruitment and Retention of the Latino Cohort. Subcontract to the Woman's Health Initiative. (Office of Research on Woman's Health; $155,833)
Subcontract to the Woman's Health Initiative. Provide culturally sensitive recruitment efforts and access to the Latino community.
- 1992-1999 (PI, subcontract) En Acción: National Hispanic Leadership Initiative on Cancer. (National Cancer Institute; $922,485)
