D. Research Experiences

- 2002-2003 Reviewed the literature on Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders' health disparities for a report commissioned by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.
- 1999-2000 Analysis of data on smoking among Chinese Americans and Asian American Cancer Control.
- 1996-1999 Analysis of data on breast, cervical, and prostate cancer control among Chinese and Korean Americans.
- 1992-96 Co-P.I. of a grant from the National Institute on Aging, "The Incidence and Course of Dementia." Principal Investigator: R. Katzman, M.D. The project will provide precise data on the accuracy of clinician's diagnosis, estimates the age-specific incidence of dementia and AD, examines the effect of education, gender, and differential mortality on the prevalence of dementia, and describe the clinical characteristics and course of dementia in Chinese society.
- 1991-93 P.I. of a grant from the National Institute on Aging, "The Epidemiology of Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia in China." This project continues the analysis of data on the health and aging of a cohort of Chinese elderly, 55 years and older, who were interviewed in 1987-90 as part of a population-based epidemiologic survey of Alzheimer's disease and other dementias in China.

- 1989-93 P.I. of a grant from the National Cancer Institute, the National Institutes of Health, entitled "Developmental Research in Cancer Control among Asian Americans." The purpose of this project was to develop a culturally appropriate cancer control instrument in the Chinese and Korean languages and to conduct a population-based community survey in Chicago's Chinatown and Koreantown using the instrument developed from this project.
- 1988-89 Co-P.I. on an NIA-funded project of the acculturation, health, nutrition, and psychological well being of Asian Americans (Chinese, Japanese, and Koreans) in Chicago's subsidized housing for the elderly.
- 1988-89 P.I. of a contract to assess the service needs of eleven groups of non-English speaking ethnic elderly in Chicago (Polish, Greeks, Lithuanians, Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, Vietnamese, Ethnic Chinese, and Cambodians), funded by McArthur Foundation, The Retirement Research Foundation, the Chicago Community Trust, and the City of Chicago Department on Aging and Disability. The survey questionnaire was published as an example of minimizing misclassification in the assessment of immigration status. See Loue S, Bunce A. The Assessment of Immigration Status in Health Research. Vital and Health Statistics 1999; 2(127): Appendix 10. http://www.cdc.gov/nchs/data/sr2_127.pdf
- 1987-90 Co-P.I. on the first phase of a longitudinal study of Alzheimer's Disease among Chinese elderly populations in Shanghai, China.
- 1987-89 Analysis of psychiatric epidemiologic data based on 3,000 household interviews in Shanghai using the DIS, conducted in collaboration with the Shanghai Psychiatric Hospital.
- 1987-89 Comparative analysis of suicides and homicides between Chinese and white Americans using the 1979-81 U.S. mortality and Census data.
- 1986-87 P.I. of a contract from the Illinois State Board of Education to examine and analyze existing data on Asian American education in Illinois. Prepared a report for the State of Illinois Governor's Office on the educational needs and mental health status of Asians in Illinois. The report was intended for the Governor's Office to formulate and guide policies pertaining to the elementary and high school education of Asian Americans.
- 1985 As a Gerontological Society of America Post-doctoral Fellow, assisted the University of Illinois Hospital and Clinics in a study of the use of emergency room services by the elderly. The project was funded by the Gerontological Society of America, Retirement Research Foundation, and the Department of Medical Social Work, College of Associated Health Professions, University of Illinois at Chicago's Health Sciences Center.

- 1984-85 P.I. of a contract from the Secretary's Task Force on Black and Minority Health, to analyze the U.S. death certificate data compiled by the National Center for Health Statistics, 1979- 81, for the purpose of understanding the mortality differentials between Asians and white Americans.
- 1984 Analysis of the use of health services and mortality differentials by the Asian/Pacific American elderly using data based on death certificates, the National Health Interview Survey, and the National Ambulatory Medical Care Services Programs managed by the National Center for Health Statistics.
- 1983 Collaborated in a psychiatric epidemiologic survey in Shanghai, China using the DIS-Version III as the main instrument for extracting diagnostic information that will meet the DIS/DSM-III Criteria. A total of more than 3,000 households was interviewed.
- 1981-83 National Institute of Mental Health's National Health Services Research Award Fellow, Department of Psychiatry, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, and Division of Epidemiology, Columbia University, New York City. Studied psychiatric epidemiology and learned the DSM-III Criteria for the classification of mental disorders.
- 1979-81 Visiting Fellow at the National Center for Health Statistics, U.S. Public Health Service, Department of Health and Human Services. Analyses of the 1969-71 health data on Chinese and other Asian minorities in the United States.
- 1978-79 Co-Investigator and Field Director of the Vietnamese Refugee Research Project, affiliated with the Department of Sociology, San Diego State University, California.
- 1974-75 Research Fellow at the Center for the Study of Man in Contemporary Society, University of Notre Dame. Research on kinship ties, spousal relations and fertility behavior. Analysis of open-ended taped interviews of selected urban families in Cebu, Philippines, to ascertain the significance of bilateral kindred structure in Cebuano fertility behavior.

- 1974 Research on Mainland Chinese family and the significance of the external social context in relation to the economic role of women and their fertility behavior.
- 1972-73 Research Assistant to Anthropologist Florence Kluckhohn and Historian George E. Taylor. Conducted field work and research in Hong Kong on the variations of value orientation among the Chinese refugees in Hong Kong. The work involved interviews with refugees in various languages and dialects (Hokkien, Cantonese, and Mandarin).
- 1970-71 Dissertation field work and research in Taiwan on the significance of filial piety (hsiao) on achievement. The research involved the replication of McClelland's original experiment under Failure, Neutral, and Success conditions. It was followed with an interview with the subject's mother to test out Winterbottom's hypothesis. A complete translation of the McClelland n Ach scoring manual was made. The original TAT figures were redrawn into Chinese Figures.
- 1969-70 Research Assistant at the Social Science Research and Training Laboratory, University of Notre Dame. Conducted bibliographic search of the literature and co-authored papers. Began writing the first draft of several chapters of a manuscript using data collected from the Cebu Family Health Project. The manuscript was later published as a book, Fertility and Kinship in the Philippines.
- 1968-69 Research Assistant on the Cebu Family Health Project based in Cebu City, Philippines. Developed the codebook for the project; assisted in coding the raw data; translated the in-depth interview data from Cebuano into English and systematize them.
